Receipt of the annual budget was the principal business of today's seasion.
The usual committees called on President Harding and notified him of the assembling of the new session, but were not advised definitely when the president would present his opening message. It was believed the president would address congress in joint session Wednesday, with a message stressing the administration's desire for enactment of the shipping bill, farm credits legislation and the annual supply bills in the hope of cleaning up all business by March 3 and avoiding an extra session of the new congress next spring. The shipping bill, passed last week by the house, is scheduled to be brought before the senate late this week. It will be taken up Wednesday by the commerce committee with a view to a prempt repty to the senate. There were indications, today, however, of some delay in this programme. Republican members are disposed to fight the Mad-den amendment requiring annual appro-priations out of the merchant marine fund for direct aid to ship-owers. The fate of the bill was said to be still in doubt with the senate alignment ex-tremely close and a threat of obstructive

England and Ireland. London, Dec. 4 (By the A. P.)—The centuries old struggle between England and Ireland ended tonight when the legislation giving the sanction of law to the new settlement with Ireland passed its final stages in the house of lords, which for many particular the bouse of lords, which for many particular than the particular of the particular of the lords. which for generations has bitterly op-posed any compromise with Ireland. The constitution bill has gone through oth houses of parliament without any amendment, and even without division being challenged. Secondly, his appointment would link the Free State with all previous phases of the home rule struggle, for besides being one of the greatest lights of the Parnell movement, he is con-nected with still earlier struggles, by reason of his relatinship to T D Sull "God Save Ireland." Moreover, Kevin O'Higgins, minister of home affairs, who piloted the constitution through the Dail Eireann, is Mr.

H.

There was no discussion or division when Chairman Volstead asked and obtained consent for such authorization. He explained that the committee, earlier in the day, had agreed unanimously to take this course. The committee, under An unidentified man leaped from the erryboat Brewster off the East Boston thority to swear witnesses and sit regardater front. No trace of the body was less of the sessions of the house.

Appearing before the committee with Jackson H. Ralston as his counsel, Mr. Keller declared that he was not prepared to proceed at once, that it would be necessary for the house to order the attendance of some we tesses who would not come voluntarily. It was also neces-sory, he said to get possession of certain papers from the files of the department of justice which he could not obtain through his own efforts. In the event that witnesses were subpoenaed, Mr. Keller stated that he would be ready to go ahead with-in a week, and Dec. 12 finally was fixed as the time for taking up the charges.

The bill of particulars, in which Mr. Keller set forth fourteen charges against the attorney ge: cal, and the latter's an-swer, made public last night, were formally filed with the committee. Later in the day Representative Woodruff, repub-lican, Michigan, asked that the two documents be printed in the congressional record in parallel columns, but Repre-sentative Johnson, republican, Washingon, objected. There was an hour's wrangle in com-mittee over the time and method of procedure before it was cut short on a mo tion by Representative Graham, republi-can. Pennsylvania to go into executive session to determine whether the house would be requested to do as Mr. Keller had urged—get the witnesses and papers. During the general discussion in open ses sion, Mr. Ralston and Mr. Keler they would like to have Clifef Justice Taft, George W. Wickersham, former attorney general, Samuel Gomperk, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Guy said to have been taken by him as a gov ernment agent in connection with conviction of Willard N. Taking up the charges generally Chairman Volstead pressed Mr. Ralston, who said he was counsel for the American Federation of Labor, as to what witnesses he had in mind. Mr. Ralston men-tioned Donald E. Richberg of Chicago, who was counsel for ratway employes in the recent strike injunction proceedings, and Stevenson, a lawyer of Cleveland, O., whose initials he would not give off-hand.

"We are not trying to prevent this inwestigation, but we control procedure and don't intend to let anybody run this com-mittee," said Chairman Volstead at one stage of the wrangle. Mr. Ralston ex-plained that he was ready to go forward without house action in ordering the appearance of witnesses, if the committee held it had power, to see how it worked. far has not indicated to conference of the constitution was framed, and that though he doubted if it would.

Why don't you wait and cross that bridge when it is reached?" asked Representative Thomas, democrat Kentucky, and Mr. Yates replied he would just as soon cross it now.

At Mr. Keller's insistence that the committee should not proceed without first getting authority to call witnesses, Mr. Graham told him they would meet that issue.

"We will decide whether to ask that authority," he exclaimed, adding that if it was obtained Mr. Keller "would be left without excuses" when the committee met to take up the charges.
